You Discovered the Difference!

Double the fun with double the impact!

Thank you to everyone who supported our 15th Annual Discover the Difference event! What an incredible evening! Check out the fun with these photos from the night here. A huge thank you to our community co-chair, William F. Hatfield, Market President Bank of America, and our parent co-chairs Russell Carey & Rebekah Ham! Rebekah got a standing ovation for her incredibly moving speech about her family's time here at The Wolf School. You'll want to read this! Find it here.

And in very exciting news, we had an anonymous donor step up and pledge to match dollar for dollar everything raised during the Scholarship Auction for Financial Aid. Thank you so much to this friend of Wolf and to all our incredible supporters. It's because of your help that deserving Complex Learners are getting the education they need. Thank you!

Sketches, Sculptures, Stencils- Oh My!

Art Show 2017!

When you give a Wolf student the encouragement and space to be creative, beautiful things happen! Art offers our students critical sensory stimulation to bolster their physical, social, and emotional development. Art helps our students find their voice and interact with the world in a positive manner. Check out our students' creative side here.

A Thank You in 3 Acts!

You Helped Grow Our Vision!

This time last year we were in the midst of the Growing Our Vision 2016 Crowdfunding Campaign. Now, a year later, with all our construction completed, we have one thing to say. Watch the video below to find out what it is!

Navigating Technology!

Janell Burley Hoffman Visits Wolf

The Wolf School welcomed nationally known writer and advocate Janell Burley Hoffman, author of iRules, to Wolf. Janell met with students, staff, and parents on how to handle the ever-changing world of technology. Janell discussed the responsibility of parents and teachers to guide the technology use of our students and children by enforcing the same contracts and ground rules between home and school. The primary reason to develop these rules is to make sure technology is always used safely.

With our students, Janell presented her Digital Toolbox which included important tips like "The Bucket," a mental aid to help students identify personal information that they should never give out online. Janell did an incredible job speaking with our students, not only to further their understanding of how to use technology safely, but also reinforcing the idea that there is always an adult that they can trust with their questions and concerns about technology.
