

the Wolf School

June 2018

Thank you, Rosy!

The Wolf School thanks Rosaline Granoff

As The Wolf School's first Director of Admissions and one of its founding members, Rosaline Granoff has had an immeasurable impact on the school and the many students, families, and staff who have been lucky enough to work with her. With the end of the 2017-2018 school year, Rosy is stepping down from her role as Director of Admissions. It's not goodbye though! We're grateful Rosy will remain on our Board of Trustees and help with special projects.

To show our gratitude to Rosy and to celebrate her incredible work, we are thrilled to announce the Rosaline I.R. Granoff Speaker Series at The Wolf School. This spring speaker series will continue to fulfill Rosy's important goal of educating the outside community about Complex Learners.

In addition, at this year's Closing Ceremonies, we were honored to present the first ever Rosaline I.R. Granoff Award for Leadership to a graduating student. This award will be presented each year to a graduating student who demonstrates the compassion and leadership ability that Rosy is so well known for.

Thank you Rosy for all you have done for The Wolf School and our community. We're forever grateful to have you as part of our family!

Welcoming Back Alumni Alumni return for BBQ

Did you know The Wolf School has over 100 alumni students? Now entering our 20th year, it's so much fun to see our alumni events continue to grow. Alumni students and their families joined us on June 14th for a cookout at Wolf. Our alumni are in high school, college, working, driving, and just plain growing up! We are always so happy to welcome back past students and hear more about what they're up to now. It's great to still feel connected to this special school.

Thank you to everyone who joined us this year!
